❖ Trading desk comments 交易平台市场观点

Yesterday, China IG space turned slightly weaker amid refreshed China Covid infections worries, and consolidated to a cautious tone post the strong rally for the past 2 weeks. Financials space were 3-5bps wider under better selling most RMs are sidelined in the bank seniors and capital bonds. T2/leasing names widened 2-5bps. AMCs were muted without much conviction. AT1 space softened a touch and were at most 0.25pt lower, more on the NC26/27 papers, while short-end NC23 papers even traded slightly higher on the support of real money cash allocation buying flows. In TMTs, BABA/TENCNT 10-year papers were roughly unchanged while better sellers were seen in the long-end part of the curve. IG properties were unchanged to 3pts lower, as we saw long-end papers also underperformed on the back of RM selling. LNGFORs/VNKRLEs retreated 1.5-4pts across the curve. China HYs had a quiet Monday session as investors were reluctant to add into beta positions before year-end. SINOCEs/COGARDs were traded down 1-3pts. Quality names slightly underperformed, with AGILEs fell 2-4pts and AGILE 25-26s were still traded from mid-30s to low-40s. FUTLANs/FTLNHDs lowered 0.5-1.5pts. Beaten down names CENCHIs/CHINSCs were 0.5-1pt lower. Elsewhere, HPDLF '24 jumped 7pts to close at mid-50s. In industrial space, FOSUNIs grounded 0.5pt higher. ANTOIL '22 and CHIOIL '23 were quoted at 96 and 98.5 level, respectively, before into the evening CHIOIL outlook was changed to negative by Moody's. Later after Monday close, ANTOIL announced that it has further repurchased USD50.623mn of ANTOIL 7.5 '22. VEYONG '26/WESCHI '26 drifted about 1pt lower. Macau gaming names on average fell 2pts on the back of the worsening China COVID situation, with MPELs/SANLTDs/WYNMACs lowered 1-2.5pts. Away from China, Indian renewables like GRNKEN/RPVIN slightly dipped 0.5pt. The Caa1-rated mining conglomerate, VEDLNs first dropped 3-4pts and then ended at 1-2pts lower against last close after VRL surprisingly delayed its interim results release, "in view of the non-availability of Directors due to unforeseen circumstances". Indonesian quasi-sovereign benchmarks were largely unchanged skewed to better selling.

In the LGFV/SOE Perp space, market was slightly weaker while the tone in LGFVs were rather mixed. GZINFU 4.75 '24 closed 1-2pts further lower in the AM session as Chinese RM continued to offload the exposure after Friday's headlines/noises, whilst GZINFU 2.85 '26 also retraced 1-2pts. We continued to see better buying interests in ZHHFGR/CNSHAN curves. Otherwise, rest of LGFV space was largely stable amid light two-way flows, with generally high-yielding short-dated papers supported by corp and PB buyers whereas institutional clients showed better selling interests overall. SOE Perps on the other hand were sought-after led by quality c23/c24 issues thanks to leveraged deployment flows that were looking to enhance carry. HAOHUA 10-year papers were roughly unchanged due to the support of RM buying on the HAOHUA 5-years and thus long end papers were not selected as the short target for the FM accounts. SINOPE slightly widened 3-5bps. Overall, we had a slow day perhaps as most set their sights on the World Cup.

➤ Li & Fung: Tender offer to repurchase LIFUNG 4.5 08/18/25

Li & Fung announced the tender offer for LIFUNG 4.5 08/18/25 on 21 Nov'22, following the offer for its LIFUNG 4.375 10/04/2024 announced at end-Oct'22. The company intends to purchase up to USD250mn out of its total USD600mn notes outstanding. It has the discretion over the final maximum acceptance amount, and will announce the amount after the early deadline on 6 Dec. Notes validly tendered on or prior to the early deadline will be accepted in priority to other notes after the early deadline. If the amount tendered on or prior to the early deadline result in exceeding the maximum acceptance amount, validly tendered notes will be accepted on prorated basis and no notes will be accepted after early deadline (unless the maximum acceptance amount is increased).

Given the latest price of LIFUNG 4.5 08/18/25 is 83.5, the offer price at 87.5 shall be attractive for holder to submit the tender. Assuming the maximum amount of USD250mn was accepted, together with the early tendered due-24 notes, these two rounds of tender offer would lower the total notes outstanding by USD627.7mn, representing a decrease of 35.9%.

Regarding the tender offer of LIFUNG 4.375 10/04/2024, Li & Fung has completed the early settlement of USD377.7mn tendered, and outstanding amount after the settlement is USD122.3mn. Indeed, after the early deadline of 10 Nov'22, the company increased the consideration for notes tendered after early deadline from 89 to 94 on 12 Nov'22, matching the consideration of early deadline. The expiration deadline of the tender offer for LIFUNG 4.375 10/04/2024 will be on 28 Nov'22.
