

APPENDIX II

MODEL AGREEMENT:

Agreement between the Government of ... [where applicable: and the Government of the Faroes], of the one part, and the Government of ..., of the other part, concerning the delimitation of the continental shelf beyond 200 nautical miles in the area between the Faroe Islands, Iceland, Mainland Norway and Jan Mayen

The Government of ... [where applicable: and the Government of the Faroes], of the one part, and the Government of ..., of the other part,

Desiring to maintain and strengthen the good neighbourly relations between ... and ..., and

Referring to the Agreed Minutes of... between Denmark/the Faroe Islands, Iceland and Norway,

Have agreed as follows:

Article 1

Beyond 200 nautical miles from the baselines from which the breadth of the territorial sea of each Party is measured, the boundary line delimiting the continental shelf in the area between ... and ... has been determined as straight lines connecting the following points in the order specified below:

Point 1:

Point 2:

All straight lines are geodetic lines.

The points listed above are defined by geographical latitude and longitude in accordance with the World Geodetic System 1984 (WGS84).

By way of illustration, the boundary line and the points listed above have been drawn on the chart annexed to this Agreement.

Article 2

If the existence of a mineral deposit in or on the continental shelf of one of the Parties is established and the other Party is of the opinion that the said deposit extends to its continental shelf, the latter Party may notify the former Party accordingly, through submitting the data on which it bases its opinion.

If such an opinion is submitted, the Parties shall initiate discussions on the extent of the deposit and the possibility for exploitation. In the course of these discussions, the Party initiating them shall support its opinion with evidence from geophysical data and/or geological data, including any available drilling data, and both Parties shall make their best efforts to ensure that all relevant information is made available for the purposes of these discussions. If it is established during these discussions that the deposit extends to the continental shelf of both Parties and that the deposit on the continental shelf of the one Party can be exploited wholly or in part from the continental shelf of the other Party, or that the exploitation of the deposit on the continental shelf of the one Party would affect the possibility of exploitation of the deposit on the continental shelf of the other Party, agreement on the apportionment of the deposit between the Parties and on the unitised exploitation shall be reached at the request of one of the Parties, including as to the appointment of a unit operator, the manner in which any such deposit shall be most effectively exploited and the manner in which the proceeds relating thereto shall be apportioned.

The Parties shall make every effort to resolve any disagreement as rapidly as possible. If, however, the Parties fail to agree, they shall jointly consider all of the options for resolving the impasse.

If the Parties fail to agree on unitised exploitation of a transboundary deposit, the disagreement shall be resolved by negotiation. If any such dispute cannot be resolved in this manner
