Report

The Rights of the Child in Norway

Norway's fifth and sixth periodic reports to the UN Committee on the Rights of the Child - 2016

FOREWORD

The report describes Norway's follow-up of the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child (the Convention) and the two Optional Protocols on sale of children and on children in armed conflicts.

The report follows the guidelines of 3 March 2015. The concluding observations of the Committee concerning Norway's fourth periodic report are referred to by number. The report covers the period from 2010 to September 2016, and generally describes how the Committee's observations have been followed up and new or changed measures of significance for children's rights in Norway. The guidelines' limit of 21,200 words provides little opportunity for supplementary descriptions.

The report was prepared by the Ministry of Children and Equality in collaboration with eleven other Ministries.

A children's report has been prepared, and describes what it is like to grow up in Norway in the words of children and young people.
