

[CDA MEMORANDUM, February 26, 1993]

GUIDELINES ON PROVISIONAL REGISTRATION OF ELECTRIC COOPERATIVES

Attached herewith is the Guidelines on the Provisional Registration of Electric Cooperatives with the CDA which was approved by the CDA Board of Administrators and concurred in by the National Electrification Administration.

For this purpose, the Extension Offices may inform the electric cooperatives in their areas of such approval. If they have not as yet transmitted the necessary documents for provisional registration to the CDA Central Office or to PHILRECA for eventual transmittal to this Office, the Extension Office is authorized to receive such documents and is mandated to transmit them to the Central Office for provisional registration.

Registration of electric cooperatives under these Guidelines shall be with the Central Office owing to their provisional nature and the need to register them on or before 31 March 1993. However, in the future, all activities concerning the electric cooperatives shall be exercised by the Extension Office specially with respect to their regular registration.

The registration fee of the electric cooperatives is hereby set at Two Hundred Fifty Pesos (P250.00).

For compliance.

Guidelines on the Provisional Registration of Electric Cooperatives with the C.D.A.

Pursuant to Article 122 of Republic Act No. 6938, otherwise known as the Cooperative Code of the Philippines, and by virtue of a Presidential Directive issued on 28 July 1992, the Cooperative Development Authority hereby promulgates and adopts the following guidelines to govern the provisional registration of rural electric cooperatives (RECs) previously registered under Presidential Decree No. 269, as amended, with the Authority.

SECTION 1. Coverage of these Guidelines — All rural electric cooperatives (RECs) previously registered with the National Electrification Administration (NEA) under Presidential Decree No. 269, as amended, and other special laws, shall be covered by these Guidelines and shall be provisionally registered with the Authority.
