THIRD SCHEDULE TO THE SCHEME

Article 25

Documents exempt from Stamp Duty

1. Draft or order or receipt given in respect of an allowance.

2. Appointment or revocation of an appointment of an agent and any other document authorised by or in pursuance of this Scheme or otherwise required in order to give effect to the provisions of this Scheme.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Regulations, but is intended to indicate their general purport.)

These Regulations amend the provisions of the Workmen's Compensation (Supplementation) Scheme (contained in the Schedule to the Workmen's Compensation (Supplementation) Regulations (Northern Ireland), 1951) in consequence of the Family Allowances and National Insurance and Assistance Act (Northern Ireland), 1962, to improve and extend the allowances payable out of the Industrial Injuries Fund in respect of injuries or diseases arising out of pre-1948 employment. It does not apply to persons entitled to allowances for total incapacity or disablement provided by the Workmen's Compensation (Supplementation) Act (Northern Ireland), 1956; those rates having been increased by the 1962 Act.

The new Part IIA introduced into the Scheme by these Regulations provides for the payment of allowances at a weekly rate not exceeding ten shillings to persons who are or have since the 13th February, 1962, been entitled to weekly payments by way of workmen's compensation in consequence of accidents happening or diseases contracted since the end of 1923. Subject to certain exceptions the maximum weekly rate of allowances payable under the Scheme for accidents happening or diseases contracted before 1924 is increased by ten shillings.

In addition, the condition for an increase for a dependent wife not residing with her husband is brought into line with similar provisions in the main Insurance Schemes and changes are made, corresponding to those made by the 1962 Act, in the condition under which a person is liable to refund an overpayment of an allowance.

The remaining amendments are of a minor or consequential nature.
