EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This Note is not part of the Regulations, but is intended to indicate their general purport.)

These Regulations amend the main Lighting Regulations in certain minor respects and introduce the following more important changes:—

1. Aerodrome fire tenders, aerodrome runway sweepers, snow ploughs and combat engineering vehicles are exempted from the requirements as to front lamp positioning. (Regn. 2(2))

2. The requirements as to the marking of obligatory rear lamps carried on non-mechanically propelled vehicles supplied by their manufacturers after 1st April, 1960, are extended, as from 1st January, 1964, to such vehicles (except trailers) which were so supplied before 1st April, 1960. (Regn. 2(6))

3. The requirements as to the character of obligatory rear lamps carried on pedal bicycles and tricycles are applied to obligatory rear lamps carried on four-wheeled pedal cycles ("social cycles") (Regulations 2(3) and 2(6)(a), and the positions in which the lamps must be carried are prescribed. (Regns. 2(11) and 2(12))

4. Ambulances and police and fire brigade vehicles are allowed to use blue lamps and road clearance vehicles amber lamps and amber reflectors, subject to prescribed conditions. (Regn. 2(10))

5. The requirements as to the size of, and markings on, obligatory rear lamps and reflectors shall not apply to lamps and reflectors carried by a motor vehicle or trailer which is of Italian manufacture and is imported other than temporarily into Northern Ireland, if such lamps and reflectors bear a marking approved by the Italian Ministry of Transport. (Regns. 2(5), 2(6), 2(7) and 2(8))
