THE CIVIL DEFENCE ACT (NORTHERN IRELAND), 1939, COUNTY COURT RULES, 1942.

Dated this eighth day of October, 1942.

1. Every appeal under the Civil Defence Act (Northern Ireland), 1939, hereinafter called "the Act," shall be brought by Notice of Appeal.

2. All appeals shall be heard at the ordinary sittings of the county court for the division of the county, or of the Recorder's Court of a County Borough, in which the premises in respect of which the appeal is brought are situate, except when part of the premises is situate in one county and part in another in which case the appeal may be heard by the County Court Judge of either County provided that if any part of the premises is situate in a County Borough the appeal shall be heard by the Recorder of that County Borough.

3. Every notice of appeal shall be served fourteen clear days before the first day of the sessions at which the appeal is to be heard. Such notice shall be served in the manner required for the service of ordinary civil bills, and a copy thereof with the endorsement thereon of service of the original upon the respondent shall be lodged with the Clerk of the Crown and Peace at least four clear days before such sessions.

4. Every notice of appeal under section 5 sub-section 1 of the Act shall specify the estate or interest of the applicant in the designated premises, the structural alteration, or the works the removal or alteration of which is desired, and the particulars of any alteration of such works desired. Such application may be in form No. 1 in the schedule hereto, or to the like effect.

Every such notice of appeal shall be served within one calendar month after the date of the refusal by the local authority of their consent, or, if there has been no such refusal, within ten weeks after the date of the application by the appellant for such consent.

Every notice of appeal under clause 5 of the schedule to the Act. against an award of an arbitrator, shall specify the amount of compensation thereby awarded.

5. Notices of Appeal shall be in the Forms in Schedule I hereto, or to the like effect.

6. The Judge may make such order as to costs, court fees and witnesses' expenses as he shall think fit, and may at his absolute discretion measure such costs and expenses or direct them to be taxed by the Clerk of the Crown and Peace according to the scale in the Second Schedule hereto : provided that in all cases in which, having regard to the work actually performed, or the peculiar difficulty or importance of
