Caring in times of COVID-19

A global study on the impact of the pandemic on care work and gender equality

Ana Ferigra Stefanović
Coordinator

COVID-19 RESPONSE

Thank you for your interest in this ECLAC publication

Please register if you would like to receive information on our editorial products and activities. When you register, you may specify your particular areas of interest and you will gain access to our products in other formats.

www.cepal.org/en/publications

www.cepal.org/apps

Project Documents

Caring in times of COVID-19

A global study on the impact of the pandemic on care work and gender equality

Ana Ferigra Stefanović
Coordinator

This document was prepared under the direction of Ana Güezmes García, Director of the Division for Gender Affairs of the Economic Commission for Latin America and the Caribbean (ECLAC); the supervision of María Lucía Scuro, Social Affairs Officer, and Iliana Vaca Trigo, Statistician, and coordinated by Ana Ferigra Stefanović, Consultant of the same division.

The authors wish to thank Keiso Matashane-Marite, Gender Affairs Officer of the Gender, Poverty and Social Policy Division of the Economic Commission for Africa (ECA); Malinka Koparanova, Senior Social Affairs Officer and Gender Focal Point of the Economic Commission for Europe (ECE); Paula Aghon and Verónica Muñiz-Soto, Consultants of the Division for Gender Affairs of ECLAC; Srinivas Tata, Director of the Social Development Division and Cai Cai, Chief of the Gender Equality and Social Inclusion Section of the Social Development Division, and Channe Lindstrøm Oguzhan, Social Affairs Officer of the Social Development Division, all of the Economic and Social Commission for Asia and the Pacific (ESCAP) and Rouba Arja, Social Affairs Officer of the Gender Justice, Population and Inclusive Development cluster of the Economic and Social Commission for Western Asia (ESCWA), who have provided valuable contributions to the document.

This document was published in the framework of the project "Strengthening Social Protection for Pandemic Response" of the United Nations Development Account, and in particular its stream on strengthened care economy policies.

The views expressed in this document, which has been reproduced without formal editing, are those of the authors and do not necessarily reflect the views of the Organization or the countries it represents.

The boundaries and names shown on the maps included in this publication do not imply official endorsement or acceptance by the United Nations.

United Nations publication
LC/TS.2022/82
Distribution: L
Copyright © United Nations, 2022
All rights reserved
Printed at United Nations, Santiago
S.22-00294

This publication should be cited as: A. Ferigra Stefanović (coord.), "Caring in times of COVID-19: a global study on the impact of the pandemic on care work and gender equality", Project Documents (LC/TS.2022/82), Santiago, Economic Commission for Latin America and the Caribbean (ECLAC), 2022.

Applications for authorization to reproduce this work in whole or in part should be sent to the Economic Commission for Latin America and the Caribbean (ECLAC), Documents and Publications Division, publicaciones.cepal@un.org. Member States and their governmental institutions may reproduce this work without prior authorization, but are requested to mention the source and to inform ECLAC of such reproduction.

Contents

Introduction 11

Part 1
Caring in times of COVID-19 15

I. The care economy and unpaid work: concepts and trends 17
Ana Ferigra Stefanović, Lucía Scuro, Iliana Vaca-Trigo
A. Defining the care economy 17
B. The division of labour between women and men 19
C. Measuring unpaid work 20
D. Trends in unpaid care work across the globe 23
E. Unpaid care, poverty and gender equality 26
F. Paid domestic work and global care chains 29
G. The growing care crisis 31

II. Crisis upon crisis 33
Ana Ferigra Stefanović, Lucía Scuro, Iliana Vaca-Trigo
A. The care crisis and the COVID-19 pandemic 34
1. Unpaid work in the home 34
2. Women's economic autonomy and labour participation 37
3. Women in care sectors at the front line of the crisis 39
4. The fragility of paid domestic work 39
B. Policies and measures that address the care economy in the context of COVID-19 42
1. Care services and support for carers 44
2. Social protection relating to the care economy 48
3. Income generation and employment 52
Bibliography 56

III. Towards integral care systems for a transformative sustainable recovery 59
Ana Ferigra Stefanović, Lucía Scuro, Iliana Vaca-Trigo
A. The case for public investment in care 60
1. Care as a pillar of social protection and well-being 60
2. Job creation and revitalization of the economy 60
3. Women's labour participation, economic autonomy and gender equality 62
4. Reduction in inequality and poverty 63
B. Principles for care policies that promote equality and sustainability 64
1. Care as a right and public good – the universality perspective 65
2. Shared responsibility – reduce and redistribute 66
3. Intersectorality and coordination – State, territorial and regional 66
4. Financial sustainability 67
5. Data collection and analysis on care and gender 68
C. Concluding remarks 69
Bibliography 70

Part II
Regional and national case studies 71

IV. The impact of COVID-19 on the care economy in Africa 73
Dr. Seithati Maria Motebang
Introduction 73
A. South Africa 76
1. Women in South Africa 77
2. Education 78
3. Health care 80
4. Social protection relating to the care economy 81
5. Domestic work 84
6. Conclusion 85
B. Kenya 86
1. Labour force 86
2. Unpaid care and domestic work 87
3. Education for girls and boys 88
4. Access to care-supporting infrastructure and equipment 88
5. Health care provision 88
6. Recommendations 89
C. Egypt 89
Introduction 89
1. Income generation and employment 90
2. Early childhood development 93
3. Education 94
4. Health care 96
5. Social protection relating to the care economy 97
D. Concluding remarks 98
Bibliography 98

V. Childcare, women's employment and COVID-19 impacts in the Serbia 103
Sara Cantillon, Malinka Koparanova, Milana Rikanovic, Lidia Vujicic, Vladana Ajvaz, Nargis Azizova, Blerta Cela
Introduction 103
A. Childcare provision 105

1. Legal and regulatory context 106
2. Funding model 106
3. Enrolment and capacity 107
4. Social norms and gender stereotypes 108
B. Women's employment 109
1. Employment, unemployment and activity rates 109
2. Gender pay gap 109
3. Women's employment and childcare responsibilities 110
4. Maternity and family leave policies 111
C. The impact of COVID-19 111
1. Kindergartens and preschool institutions – reopening 112
2. Impact on women's labour-force participation 112
3. Impact of the pandemic on women and families with children 113
4. Effects of the pandemic on children 113
D. Socioeconomic response and recovery measures 113
1. Income-support measures 114
2. Support to micro-enterprises 114
3. UNDP/UN-Women COVID-19 Global Gender Response Tracker 115
E. Conclusions and policy recommendations 116
Bibliography 118

VI. Childcare, women's employment and COVID-19 impacts in the Kyrgz Republic 121
Mehrigiul Ablezova, Malinka Koparanova, Silke Steinhilber, Nargis Azizova
Introduction 121
A. Overview of women's employment 123
1. Participation in the labour market 123
2. Women's entrepreneurship 124
3. Impact of migration on women and the care economy 124
4. Informal employment 125
5. Women's unpaid care work 125
6. Social norms and gender stereotypes 126
B. Provision of childcare and early education 126
1. Types of care 127
2. Childcare coverage 127
3. Funding model 128
C. Impact of the pandemic on women's employment and the provision of childcare and early education 128
1. Socioeconomic response and recovery measures 129
2. Reopening of kindergartens and school institutions 132
3. Impact on women's labour-force participation 133
4. Impact of the pandemic on women and families with children 133
D. Conclusions and recommendations 134
1. Ensuring transparency in government spending and progress reporting 134
2. Building better sex-disaggregated data and gender statistics for effective response 135
3. Strengthening and supporting care work 135
4. Recognizing unpaid care work 135
5. Ensuring access to free public infrastructure for early childhood care 136
6. Ensuring women's leadership and equal representation in all COVID-19 response planning and decision-making processes 136

7. Promoting work-life balance policies 136
8. Providing professional development opportunities that consider women's needs 136
Bibliography 137

VII. The impact of the COVID-19 pandemic on care policies: experiences in Latin America 139
Catalina de la Cruz Pincetti, Lucia Scuro Somma
A. Methodology 140
B. Characteristics of care policies in the countries analysed 141
C. Care in times of COVID-19 143
1. Communications and information 143
2. Care and transfer of children during compulsory quarantine 145
3. Services 145
4. Transfers 147
5. Time policies: care leave 148
6. Regulations for caregivers 148
D. Final reflections 149
1. Containment 150
2. Reactivation 151
3. Integrated systems of care in the region 151
Bibliography 152

VIII. The impact of the COVID-19 crisis on the economic autonomy of women in Latin America and the Caribbean 153
Introduction 153
A. The excessive burden of care in households 154
B. Women at the forefront of the response to the pandemic 155
1. Women working in health care 156
2. Women working in education 157
3. Women working in private homes 157
C. A historic setback for women's labour-force participation and employment quality 158
1. Inequalities between households 160
2. Sectoral effects 163
3. The effect on incomes 166
D. Care and its role in the sustainability of life 168
1. Putting life at the centre 168
2. How can innovative investment contribute to a transformative recovery with equality? 169
Bibliography 171

预览已结束，完整报告链接和二维码如下：
https://www.yunbaogao.cn/report/index/report?reportId=5_31565