

The care society

A horizon
for sustainable recovery with
gender equality

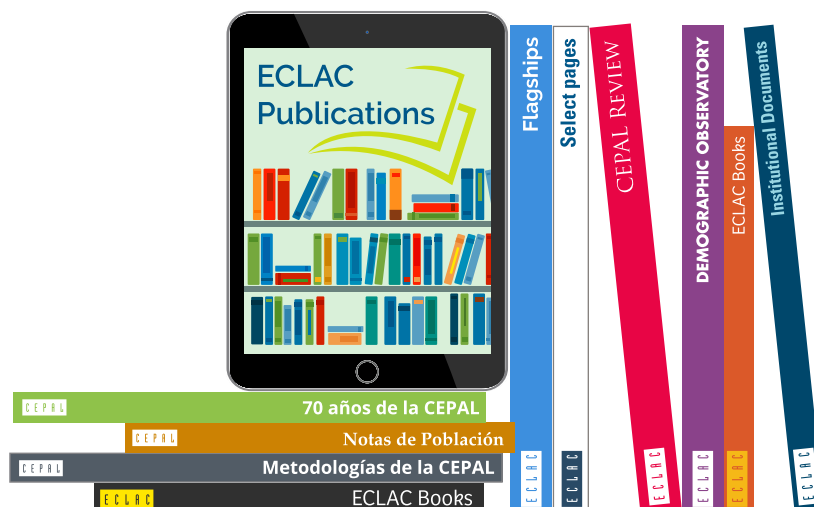

UNITED NATIONS

XV Regional Conference
on Women in
Latin America and the Caribbean
Buenos Aires, 7–11 November 2022

Thank you for your interest in this ECLAC publication

Please register if you would like to receive information on our editorial products and activities. When you register, you may specify your particular areas of interest and you will gain access to our products in other formats.

Register

ECLAC

www.cep.al.org/en/publications

www.instagram.com/publicacionesdelacepal

www.facebook.com/publicacionesdelacepal

www.issuu.com/publicacionescep.al/stacks

www.cep.al.org/es/publicaciones/apps

The care society

A horizon
for sustainable recovery with
gender equality

UNITED NATIONS

XV Regional Conference
on Women in
Latin America and the Caribbean
Buenos Aires, 7–11 November 2022

José Manuel Salazar-Xirinachs
Executive Secretary

Raúl García-Buchaca
Deputy Executive Secretary
for Management and Programme Analysis

Ana Gúezmes García
Chief, Division for Gender Affairs

Sally Shaw
Chief, Documents and Publications Division

This document was prepared by the Economic Commission for Latin America and the Caribbean (ECLAC), in its capacity as technical secretariat of the Regional Conference on Women in Latin America and the Caribbean, for the fifteenth session of the Conference (Buenos Aires, 7–11 November 2022).

Ana Gúezmes García, Chief of the Division for Gender Affairs of ECLAC, was responsible for the overall coordination of the document, with support from Lucía Scuro, Senior Social Affairs Officer in the same Division.

The drafting group, which was directed by Ana Gúezmes, Lucía Scuro, Nicole Bidegain and Iliana Vaca Trigo, included Diego Collado, Diana Rodríguez and Alejandra Valdés, of the Division for Gender Affairs of ECLAC, and Camila Baron, Jennie Dador, Alma Espino, Eleonor Faur, María Elena Valenzuela and Belén Villegas, consultants with the same Division. Substantive input, statistical processing and valuable comments were provided by Paula Aghon, Florencia Aguilera, Catalina Alviz, Georgina Binstock, Camila Bustamante, Javiera Cáceres, Marcela Cerrutti, Kethelyn Ferreira, Carolina Miranda, Fernanda Moscoso, Daniela Moyano, Macarena Muñoz, Francisca Orellana, Valentina Perrotta, Paula Quinteros, Carolina Salazar, Vivian Souza, Ana Catalina Valencia, Julia Vivanco, Marisa Weinstein and Mariana Winocur, consultants with the same Division.

Various substantive divisions of ECLAC, as well as the Commission's subregional headquarters and national offices, participated in the preparation of the document. The authors are particularly grateful for the collaboration of Helena Cruz Castanheira, Jorge Rodríguez and Pamela Villalobos, of the Latin American and Caribbean Demographic Centre (CELADE)-Population Division of ECLAC, Andrés Espejo, Claudia Robles Valdés and Daniela Trucco, of the Social Development Division, Sonia Gontero and Ramón Pineda, of the Economic Development Division, and Martín Abeles, Soledad Villafaña and Lucía Tumini Valdés, of the ECLAC office in Buenos Aires.

Special thanks are also owed to the Americas and the Caribbean Regional Office of the United Nations Entity for Gender Equality and the Empowerment of Women (UN-Women) and the Latin American and Caribbean Regional Office of the United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF) for their contributions.

The valuable inputs stemming from the discussions and exchanges that took place in four expert meetings (held in September and November 2021, and in March and June 2022) attended by representatives of academia, think tanks, women from feminist, indigenous and civil society organizations, representatives of United Nations agencies, funds and programmes, and governments of the region, are gratefully acknowledged.

The document incorporates valuable contributions from ministers and authorities of machineries for the advancement of women in Latin America and the Caribbean, provided at the special meeting of the Presiding Officers of the Regional Conference on Women in Latin America and the Caribbean (Santiago, 22 and 23 June 2022) and the sixtieth, sixty-first and sixty-second meetings of the Presiding Officers (held from 23 to 25 February 2021, on 29 and 30 September 2021, and on 26 and 27 January 2022, respectively).

Support for the preparation of this document was also received from the ECLAC-AECID Technical Cooperation Programme and from the Open Society Foundation cooperation project "Promoting the inclusion of gender equality in economic policies to advance women's economic autonomy and progressive structural change in Latin American countries" and the Wellspring Philanthropic Fund cooperation project "Promoting women's rights and autonomy for transformative economic recovery in Latin America and the Caribbean".

The boundaries and names shown on the maps included in this publication do not imply official acceptance or endorsement by the United Nations.

United Nations publication
LC/CRM.15/3
Distribution: G
Copyright © United Nations, 2022
All rights reserved
Printed at United Nations, Santiago
S.22-00703

This publication should be cited as: Economic Commission for Latin America and the Caribbean (ECLAC), The care society: a horizon for sustainable recovery with gender equality (LC/CRM.15/3), Santiago, 2022.

Applications for authorization to reproduce this work in whole or in part should be sent to the Economic Commission for Latin America and the Caribbean (ECLAC), Documents and Publications Division, publicaciones.cepal@un.org. Member States and their governmental institutions may reproduce this work without prior authorization, but are requested to mention the source and to inform ECLAC of such reproduction.

Acknowledgements

The authors are grateful for the input to this document stemming from discussions and conversations that took place in the four expert meetings held in September and November 2021 and in March and June 2022. Participants at the meetings included the following members of the academic community and think tanks, women from civil society organizations, officials of United Nations agencies, funds and programmes and representatives of governments of the region: Lorena Aguilar, Cecilia Alemany, Paz Arancibia, Julio Bango, Karina Batthyány, Juliette Bonnafé, Jorge Campanella, Rosa Cañete, Marina Casas, Lilián Celiberti, Raquel Coello, Francisco Cos-Montiel, Patricia Cossanni, Jerome de Henau, Daniela de los Santos, María Ángeles Durán, Marina Durano, Alma Espino, Marta Ferreyra, Natalia Genta, Ana Cristina González, Hortensia Hidalgo, María Jimena Jurado Giraldo, Débora Ley, Norma Gabriela López Castañeda, Guillermina Martín, Piedad Martín, María José Martínez, Ernesto Murro, Anita Navar, Gaby Oré, Laura Pautassi, Andrea Quesada Aguilar, Shahra Razavi, Corina Rodríguez Enríquez, Diana Rodríguez Franco, Soledad Salvador, Celina Santellán, Cristian Silva, Zulma Sosa, Ana María Tribín, Joan Tronto, Alison Vascónez, Mariama Williams, María Teresa Zapeta and Javiera Zárate.

Contents

| | |
|---|-----------|
| Foreword | 9 |
| Chapter I | |
| Gender equality and the care society | 15 |
| Introduction | 17 |
| A. Care at the heart of sustainable development with gender equality | 17 |
| 1. Care as a link between productive and reproductive processes..... | 20 |
| 2. The social organization of care..... | 22 |
| B. Care and the sustainability of life | 23 |
| C. The right to care..... | 24 |
| 1. The right to care in Latin American and Caribbean constitutions and regulations..... | 25 |
| 2. The State as guarantor of the right to care | 26 |
| D. Towards the care society..... | 27 |
| 1. The care society poses a challenge to the current development pattern | 27 |
| 2. What is the care society?..... | 28 |
| Bibliography | 30 |
| Chapter II | |
| The inherent link between the sexual division of labour and gender inequality | 33 |
| Introduction | 35 |
| A. Unsustainable natural resource exploitation and its effects on women in all their diversity..... | 35 |
| 1. Extractivism, environmental degradation and their impact in relation to gender inequalities..... | 36 |
| 2. Extractivism as applied to women's time and work | 41 |
| B. Sexual division of labour, its links with other structural inequality challenges and its impact on women's autonomy..... | 43 |
| 1. Socioeconomic inequality and the persistence of poverty are perpetuating the care crisis | 44 |
| 2. Patriarchal, discriminatory and violent cultural patterns reinforce the sexual division of labour | 47 |
| 3. The persistent concentration of power and hierarchical gender relations consolidate the unjust sexual division of labour | 50 |
| C. Sexual division of labour and care organization in territories | 51 |
| 1. A territorial perspective | 52 |
| 2. Mobility and migration of women caregivers..... | 59 |
| Bibliography | 62 |
| Chapter III | |
| Care amid demographic, epidemiological and economic changes..... | 67 |
| Introduction | 69 |
| A. Effects of demographic, economic and epidemiological trends on the supply of and demand for care..... | 69 |
| B. The COVID-19 crisis: aftermath and lessons learned..... | 81 |
| Bibliography | 84 |

| | |
|---|------------|
| Chapter IV | |
| The labour market and care work..... | 87 |
| Introduction | 89 |
| A. A model sustained by women's time | 90 |
| 1. Labour market and time spent on care | 92 |
| B. Taking care of paid caregivers..... | 105 |
| 1. Conditions for paid female domestic workers | 107 |
| 2. Continuity of health care..... | 110 |
| 3. Working conditions in the education sector | 113 |
| Bibliography | 118 |
| Annex IV.A1..... | 121 |
| Annex IV.A2..... | 123 |
| Chapter V | |
| Macroeconomic and global challenges for a care society..... | 125 |
| Introduction | 127 |
| A. The links between international trade, the production structure and women's economic autonomy in an uncertain context | 128 |
| 1. The constraints of trade and production specialization in moving towards a care society | 129 |
| 2. The challenges of women's labour participation in the context of the region's trade specialization | 131 |
| B. The structural and conjunctural challenges of fiscal policy for equality | 138 |
| 1. The main fiscal challenges in Latin America and the Caribbean | 138 |
| 2. The need to value the care economy economically and invest in it..... | 144 |
| Bibliography | 146 |
| Annex V.A1 | 149 |
| Chapter VI | |
| A change of era: the State for the care society | 151 |
| Introduction | 153 |
| A. The State for the care society | 154 |
| 1. The State as duty bearer..... | 154 |
| 2. The role of the State in providing, coordinating and regulating care | 155 |
| B. Public policies for the care society..... | 156 |
| 1. Guiding principles for the design of care policies | 156 |
| 2. Comprehensive care policies and systems..... | 159 |
| 3. Fiscal compacts for the care society..... | 161 |
| 4. Labour market policies for the transition to a care society | 163 |
| 5. Inclusive digitalization and the closing of the digital gender gap..... | 165 |

预览已结束，完整报告链接和二维码如下：

https://www.yunbaogao.cn/report/index/report?reportId=5_31808

