A stylized globe is the central focus, overlaid with a complex network of thin grey lines and dots, suggesting global connectivity. Large, semi-transparent hexagons in various shades of blue, green, and red are scattered across the background. The globe itself has a color gradient, with the Americas in shades of green and blue, and Europe and Africa in shades of red and orange.

ILO Cataloguing in Publication Data

The designations employed in ILO publications, which are in conformity with United Nations practice, and the presentation of material therein do not imply the expression of any opinion whatsoever on the part of the International Labour Office concerning the legal status of any country, area or territory or of its authorities, or concerning the delimitation of its frontiers.

The responsibility for opinions expressed in signed articles, studies and other contributions rests solely with their authors, and publication does not constitute an endorsement by the International Labour Office of the opinions expressed in them.

Reference to names of firms and commercial products and processes does not imply their endorsement by the International Labour Office, and any failure to mention a particular firm, commercial product or process is not a sign of disapproval.

FOREWORD

This report has been prepared by the ILO Research Department as a contribution to the G7 Social Employment Task Force on “Reshaping multilateral action to strengthen social justice”, under the French G7 Presidency in 2019.

It has been prepared by Marva Corley-Coulibaly and Elizabeth Echeverria Manrique, with valuable contributions from Ira Postolachi. The report has benefited from the excellent guidance and comments provided by Deborah Greenfield, Deputy Director-General for Policy, and Claire Harasty, Special Adviser to the Deputy Director-General for Policy, as well as the support of Damian Grimshaw, Director of the ILO Research Department.

The authors would also like to express their appreciation to G7 members who attended the 2nd G7 Social Employment Task Force Meeting on 1-2 April 2019 in Paris for their suggestions and feedback on this report. However, the views presented and the arguments employed in this report are the sole responsibility of the authors and do not necessarily reflect those of the G7 members.
