ILO Cataloguing in Publication Data

The designations employed in ILO publications, which are in conformity with United Nations practice, and the presentation of material therein do not imply the expression of any opinion whatsoever on the part of the International Labour Office concerning the legal status of any country, area or territory or of its authorities, or concerning the delimitation of its frontiers.

The responsibility for opinions expressed in signed articles, studies and other contributions rests solely with their authors, and publication does not constitute an endorsement by the International Labour Office of the opinions expressed in them.

Reference to names of firms and commercial products and processes does not imply their endorsement by the International Labour Office, and any failure to mention a particular firm, commercial product or process is not a sign of disapproval.

ILO publications and digital products can be obtained through major booksellers and digital distribution platforms, or ordered directly from ilo@turpin-distribution.com. For more information, visit our website: www.ilo.org/publns or contact ilopubs@ilo.org.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Preparations for the World Employment and Social Outlook – Trends 2015 were led by the Job-friendly Macroeconomic Policies team in the ILO Research Department, headed by Ekkehard Ernst. The project was supervised by Raymond Torres, Director of the Research Department and Moazam Mahmood, Deputy Director.

The report was prepared by: Vladimir Andrianov, Valia Bourmpoula, Juan Chacaltana, Sukti Dasgupta, Marta Duda, Ekkehard Ernst, Salwa Haidar, Richard Horne, Phu Huynh, Aya Jafaar, Sameer Khatiwada, Kee Beom Kim, Stefan Kühn, Mary Kawar, Xinrong Liu, Makiko Matsumoto, Rossana Merola, Santo Milasi, Michael Mwasikakata, Veda Narasimhan, Alena Nesporova, Prakash Pathak, Clemente Pignatti, Damien Roche, Steven Tobin, Raymond Torres, Sher Verick and Christian Viegelahn.

Specific mention should be given to Valia Bourmpoula for preparing the global and regional estimates on the basis of the dedicated econometric models; Veda Narasimhan for preparing the regional wage projections; Salwa Haidar for helpful research assistance; and Judy Rafferty for assistance with the publication process. The publication would not have been possible without the contributions of other members of the Job-friendly Macroeconomic Policies team, notably Philippe Blet and Anne Drougard.

The team wishes to acknowledge the comments and suggestions provided by Sandra Polaski, Deputy Director-General for Policy and James Howard from Director-General's Office. Comments on earlier drafts were also provided by ILO Regional and Country Offices as well as several Policy Departments, notably the Social Protection Department, the Sectoral Activities Department and the Conditions of Work and Equality Department. We would like to express our thanks to colleagues in the ILO Department of Communication and Public Information for their continued collaboration and support in diffusing the publication.

The analysis provided in the World Employment and Social Outlook relies heavily on available data. The ILO Research Department takes this opportunity to thank all institutions involved in the collection and dissemination of labour market information, including national statistical agencies and the ILO Department of Statistics.

Finally, the team also benefited from a careful review and helpful comments on an earlier versions of the report by the Research Department of the International Monetary Fund, the United Nations Department of Economic and Social Affairs and the World Bank's Development Prospects Group.
