

SOLIDARITY AND THE SOUTH

NEW DIRECTIONS IN LONG-TERM DEVELOPMENT FINANCE

SOLIDARITY AND THE SOUTH

NEW DIRECTIONS IN LONG-TERM DEVELOPMENT FINANCE

UNITED NATIONS
New York and Geneva, 2018

Edited by Diana Barrowclough
and Ricardo Gottschalk

© 2017, United Nations

This work is available through open access, by complying with the Creative Commons licence created for intergovernmental organizations, at <http://creativecommons.org/licenses/by/3.0/igo/>.

The designations employed and the presentation of material on any map in this work do not imply the expression of any opinion whatsoever on the part of the United Nations concerning the legal status of any country, territory, city or area or of its authorities, or concerning the delimitation of its frontiers or boundaries.

Photocopies and reproductions of excerpts are allowed with proper credits.

References in the text to the United States are to the United States of America and those to the United Kingdom are to the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland. The term “dollar” ($) refers to United States dollars, unless otherwise stated. The term “billion” signifies 1,000 million. Decimals and percentages do not necessarily add up due to rounding.

This publication has not been formally edited.

United Nations publication issued by the United Nations Conference on Trade and Development.

UNCTAD/GDS/MDP/2017/2

All rights reserved.

Acknowledgements

The papers in this compendium are based on presentations and discussions given at a series of meetings organized by UNCTAD in recent years, made possible thanks to financial support from the Development Account and authorization from the UN General Assembly. The project was in response to a request from UNCTAD member states for more information about the rising trend of south-south financial and monetary integration. Lead by UNCTAD Senior Economist Diana Barrowclough, the project collaborated closely with academics, experts and practitioners from development banks, reserve funds, academia, governments and international organisations. In addition to the authors in this volume, we thank others who have helped at various phases of the project including Prof Barbara Fritz (Freie University of Berlin); André Biancarelli (University of Campinas, Brazil); Akpan Ekpo (West African Institute of Financial and Economic Management, Nigeria); Gabriel Mougani (AFDB); Jomo Sundaram (Institute of Strategic and International Studies), Daniel Tittlemann (ECLAC), in addition to colleagues in UNCTAD.

Meetings from which these papers and their findings are drawn include ‘Financial and monetary cooperation in the world – south-south cooperation responses’, co-hosted in Quito, Ecuador with the Union of South American Nations and the Ministry of External Relations and Human Resources, Ecuador, in November 2016; also ‘Financing development: experiences of regional monetary and financial South South cooperation - the role of multilateralism in the current global economy’, South African Institute of International Affairs (SAIIA), Johannesburg, May 2017; and ‘Scaling Development Finance for the SDGs and the Paris Agreement’, Global Development Policy Centre, University of Boston, 23 April 2018. It was also discussed at inter-governmental and expert meetings hosted by UNCTAD in the Palais des Nations, Geneva, and at a high-level round table at UNCTAD 14, held in Nairobi, Kenya, in July 2016.

In addition to thanking the co-hosts at these and other related events and all participants who gave time and enthusiasm to the work, we particularly thank Silvia Perugachi from the Comisión Técnica Nueva Arquitectura Financiera Internacional, Ministerio de Relaciones Exteriores y Movilidad Humana, for initiating this publication by organizing and drafting several of the Quito presentations from Spanish. Other papers from a related Quito meeting can be found in ‘La Cooperación Monetaria y Financiera en el Sur: Estrategias de financiamiento regional’, published by the Ministerio de Relaciones Exteriores y Movilidad Humana del Ecuador (2016).

Table of contents

Acknowledgements	3
About the authors	7
Introduction – the New, Southern-led landscape of development finance Diana Barrowclough and Ricardo Gottschalk	11

PART 1: SKETCHING THE NEW, SOUTHERN-LED LANDSCAPE OF DEVELOPMENT FINANCE

1. Financial Crises and the Emergence of New Financial Architectures: Towards a Post-Neoliberal World – Ilene Grabel	24
2. Supporting the new landscape – development banks, public private partnerships, sovereign wealth funds and the un-sung role of the developmental state – Diana Barrowclough	30
3. Asian experiences in financial initiatives and institution building – developmental and defensive – Mah Hui Lim	39
4. Financing strategies from UNASUR: An assessment Pedro Silva Barros	48
5. The Political Economy of Global Financial Institutions and Responses from the South – Theotonio dos Santos	53

PART 2: SOUTHERN-LED DEVELOPMENT BANKS AND THEIR ROLE

6.	Development Banks from the South: Towards an Integrated Approach Ricardo Gottschalk	58
7.	New financial institutions of development in uncertain times Rogério Studart	64
8.	China's Development Finance Institutions in Context Kevin P. Gallagher	69
9.	Development Bank of Latin America - CAF Luis Calle	80
10.	The Brics New Development Bank (NDB) Marcelo de Lima	85
11.	The Inter-American Development Bank Javier Díaz Cassou	90
12.	Boosting resilience and growth – the case of the Islamic Development Bank Walid Abdelwahab	96
13.	How can the BRICS New Development Bank better use Country Systems – drawing on experiences from Kenya, Morocco and South Africa Cyril Prinsloo, Chelsea Markowitz, El Mostafa Jamea and Kwame Owino	101
14.	Africa's regional trade, monetary and financial integration: An Overview Stephen Karingi	107

PART 3: THOUGHTS AT THE BIRTH OF THE BANK OF THE SOUTH

15.	The Bank of the South as a Mechanism for Financing and Regional Integration: Activities in the Operational Phase – Pedro Buonomo	114
16.	The Bank of the South: Its transformative role and the five sovereignties Andrés Arauz	118
17.	The Bank of the South: A Bank for a better world Eudomar Tovar	121

About the authors

Walid Abdelwahab is the Director General of Country Relation and Services for the Islamic Development Bank (IsDB). He leads the IsDB's engagement with its 57-member countries through policy dialogue, advisory, and financing, and oversees the Bank's relationship and service delivery through its 11 Regional Hubs in Asia, Africa, MENA, Europe and Latin America. He also leads strategic initiatives in innovative finance, change management, organizational efficiency, and business development. He holds a PhD in Engineering.

Andrés Arauz has a master's degree in Development Economics from the Latin American Faculty of Social Sciences - Ecuador; and a Bachelor of Science in Economics and Mathematics from the University of Michigan (United States of America). He was Banking General Director of the Central Bank of Ecuador and General Under Secretary of Planning of Good Living, in the National Secretariat of Planning and Development of Ecuador. He is currently Coordinating Minister of Knowledge and Human Talent and has been appointed Executive Director of Ecuador for the Bank of the South.

Pedro Silva Barros is currently the Director of Economic Affairs of UNASUR (2015-2018). Prior to joining UNASUR, he served as Titular of the Mission in Venezuela of the Institute of Applied Economic Research (IPEA) of the Department for Strategic Affairs of the Presidency of The Republic of Brazil (2010-2014) and Deputy Director of International Economic Relations and Policy of IPEA (2015). Since 2006 he has been professor at the Economics department of the Pontificia Universidad Católica de São Paulo in the chairs of Brazilian economy, microeconomics, politics and economic planning, general economic history and international economic relations in Brazil. At the University of São Paulo, he has a degree in Economics and Law and a PhD in

预览已结束，完整报告链接和二维码如下：

https://www.yunbaogao.cn/report/index/report?reportId=5_8994

