This Training Manual is the outcome of United Nations Development Account Project 1415M: Building the capacities of selected LDCs to upgrade and diversify their fish exports, covering Cambodia, the Comoros, Mozambique, Myanmar and Uganda. The UNCTAD secretariat would like to express its thanks and appreciation to the United Nations Development Account for financing the project.

The project was implemented by a team consisting of Mussie Delelegn and Benjamin McCarthy, under the overall supervision of Paul Akiwumi, Director, Division for Africa, LDCs and Special Programmes, UNCTAD. Patrick Osakwe, Head, Trade and Poverty Branch, UNCTAD, provided guidance on the overall implementation of the project and valuable inputs to the present Training Manual. Alba Solé Sorribes, Lidet Kebede Assefa, Olamide Oshodi and Jeremie Gingras provided research assistance and technical support for the organization of the workshops at the technical and policy levels. Michael Brat provided consultancy services. In addition, the following provided support: Madasamyraja Rajalingam (layout, graphics and desktop publishing); Alan Sternberg (editing); Magali Studer (graphic design); Stefanie Garry, Raul Javaloyes, Yan Zhang and Win Myint. Secretarial and administrative support for the project and in the preparation of the study were provided by Regina Ledesma and Paulette Lacroix.
