REPORT May and June 2021

Highlights

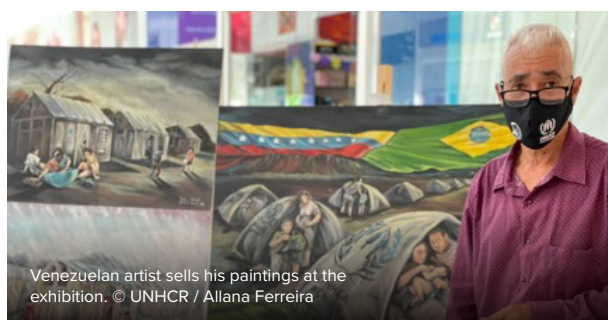

Launching of Companies with Refugees Forum (Fórum Empresas com Refugiados): an unprecedented business engagement initiative

UNHCR and the Global Compact Network Brazil launched, on 23 June, the Companies with Refugees Forum, formed by companies and business organizations interested in supporting the inclusion of refugees in the labor market. The initiative already counts with the engagement of 21 companies and organizations and seeks to promote the exchange of experiences, training actions, employability and sharing of good practices in the socio-economic insertion of refugees. ART AND CRAFTS EXHIBITION

UNHCR, in partnership with AVSI, Fraternidade Sem Fronteiras (FSF), Fraternidade – International Humanitarian Federation (FFHI) and other partner organizations, organized an exhibition of arts and crafts in Roraima Garden Shopping, in the context of World Refugee Day. The exhibition featured the work of Venezuelan artisans and artists, and its main objective was to give visibility to the artistic work of this population. Read more here.

✈ Interiorization

The Federal Government's Interiorization strategy, implemented by Operation Welcome (Operação Acolhida), voluntarily relocates Venezuelan refugees and migrants from the states of Roraima and Amazonas to other cities in the country. UNHCR, in partnership with other UN agencies and civil society organizations, has supported the strategy since its launch. Learn more about the Interiorization strategy and UNHCR's work.

Launching of "Institutional Interiorization Modality of Venezuelans: Lessons Learned, Challenges and Opportunities"

The UNHCR study in partnership with Children's Villages Brazil highlights that people who left the reception and integration centers evaluated with a high degree of satisfaction the services provided at all stages of the Interiorization strategy, from the preparation for departure to the reception in the place of destination. Despite the good results, high rental costs were identified (40% of family income). The main recommendation of the study is to strengthen the exchange of information and support networks in the post-reception period, especially regarding social protection and income generation.

✈ Institutional Interiorization Modality

The Institutional Interiorization modality involves the relocation of Venezuelan people sheltered in Boa Vista to reception and integration centers in other Brazilian cities. In these spaces, people are sheltered for up to 3 months and are referred to job opportunities, education and social protection services. The centers also stand out for sheltering and promoting integration and autonomy of people with specific protection needs, such as the elderly, single-parent families, LGBTI+ community, people with disabilities and people with health problems.

Research on Venezuelans' Integration

World Bank in partnership with UNHCR launched the study “The Integration of Venezuelan Refugees and Migrants in Brazil”. The study indicates that, despite a favorable legal framework, Venezuelan people face obstacles in accessing the formal labor market, the educational system, and social services. Venezuelans are 64 percent less likely to be employed than Brazilian workers, and their children are 53 percent less likely to go to school. In the education sector, only 45 percent of Venezuelan children were enrolled in school - compared to over 85 percent of Brazilian children. For more information, see the Executive Summary here.
